

D1060 Level 3 Diploma in Anatomy and Physiology (Essential anatomy and physiology is embedded in all skills units)

Aim: To study anatomy and physiology of the body in order to understand how the body works or to reinforce learning of body systems before taking a further qualification

Objectives:

to develop and exhibit knowledge of:

- endocrine and reproductive systems
- skeleton and joints
- blood and lymphatic systems
- muscles and nervous system
- anatomy and physiology of skin and hair
- digestive and excretory systems
- respiratory and olfactory systems
- cells and skin